Under current federal and state laws our products are not considered toxic nor hazardous materials and therefore are not registered as such.

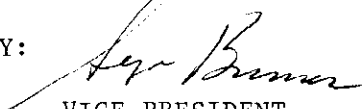

The Espoma Company considers the exact formulation of its products proprietary information. However, in general we use a variety of natural organics including meals, manures, and tankages. Examples would be crab meal, animal tankage, manure, cocoa tankage, and bone meal.

When the product is used for the purposes intended, and applied as directed, no undesirable effects should occur.

Yours very truly,

THE ESPOMA COMPANY
